

World Music Singing

with Nikki Berry

Exuberant harmonies from Africa to the Pacific

A chance to lose yourself in the crowd and find yourself in the collective sound, set in the beautiful bush clad setting of the Wellspring centre, in Puhoi (Just north of Auckland)

We will sing joyful rhythmic songs from Africa, rich dark harmonies from Israel and Eastern Europe, uplifting African American Gospel and the sweet sounds of the Pacific.

Sunday, 13 February, 10 - 4

Wellspring
60 Saleyards Rd, Puhoi

$45.00

Please let us know that you are coming and bring lunch to share.

Nikki is based in Christchurch where she leads the exuberant world music choirs, A Capellago and Open Song, and has helped to establish choirs all over New Zealand through supporting emerging conductors and providing arrangements. Nikki is able to pull a large group together very quickly into a satisfying and cohesive choir, and is committed to debunking the 'myth of the non-singer'.

Open to people of all ages and abilities

"If you can WALK,
you can DANCE.
If you can TALK,
you can SING."
